

Climate Change Policy in Asia and the EU

Topics in International Policy II

Mon 5th -9th August 2013 (2credits)

This course focuses on the integrative understanding about policy for environmental protection, energy consumption and economic development in Asia and the EU. this course also explores the potential for reducing carbon emission and increasing the efficiency of renewable energy.

PD DR. HELMUT WEIDNER

LECTURER FOR POLITICAL SCIENCE AT FREE UNIVERSITY OF BERLIN

TIME:

5th Aug: 10:30~15:30
(10:30~12:30,
13:30~15:30)

6th ~9th :10:00~15:00
(10:00~12:00,
13:00~15:00)

PLACE: W401

KENTAROU TAMURA PH.D.

AREA LEADER,
CLIMATE AND ENERGY AREA,
INSTITUTE FOR GLOBAL ENVIRONMENTAL STRATEGIES (IGES)

- ✘ 1-(1) Global climate change policy - Overview and developments
- ✘ 1-(2) How to analyze climate policies - Approaches
- ✘ 1-(3) Climate policy of the EU
- ✘ 1-(4) German climate change policy
- ✘ 1-(5) Emission trading systems – The EU system

- ✘ 2-(1) Climate change in Asia : Situation of greenhouse gases emission and vulnerability to climate change
- ✘ 2-(2) Progress toward an international framework on climate change
- ✘ 2-(3) Climate policy in Asia : Situation and problems(1)
- ✘ 2-(4) Climate policy in Asia : Situation and problems(2)
- ✘ 2-(5) Future prospects for international negotiations for a new framework for climate policy

Graduate students from various fields and abroad as well as the Public Policy School are all welcomed.
Please apply for this course at Kyoumu of the Faculty of Law. (✘please refer to the syllabus)
Time limit for application : Tuesday 9th July 2013

If you have any questions, please contact the following person:
Ms. Yumiko Meguro , the Public Policy School
011-706-4717 : low-carbon@hops.hokudai.ac.jp