

Japan-Australia Workshop on Strategy for the Future Food Environment

Organizer: Global Institution for Collaborative Research and Education (GI-CoRE), Hokkaido University
Co-organizer: the University of Sydney

The University of Sydney

- Brian Jones (Faculty of Agriculture and Environment)
“Precision genetic engineering with CRISPR/Cas9”
Michael Kertesz (Faculty of Agriculture and Environment)
“Microbes in Plant Health and Disease”
Robyn Turner (Faculty of Agriculture and Environment)
“Food = the Future”

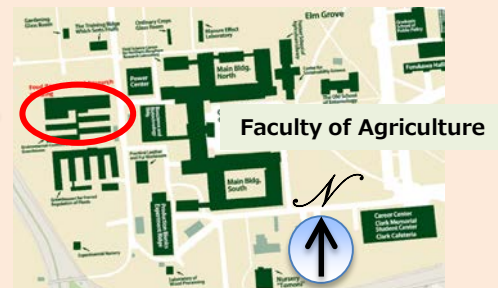

Hokkaido University

- Naoyuki Funamizu (Faculty of Engineering)
“Resources Oriented Sanitation: - Its concept and experience in Burkina Faso”
Takashi Inoue (Faculty of Agriculture)
“Topics on Water and Agriculture in Hokkaido”
Masashi Takahashi (Faculty of Agriculture)
“Reproductive approaches to improve cattle productivity”
Takashi Matsuishi (Faculty of Fisheries Sciences)
“Japanese and Asian Fishery Management”
Toshikazu Kawaguchi (Faculty of Environmental Earth Science)
“Environmental Engineering for Energy, Monitoring, and Mediation”

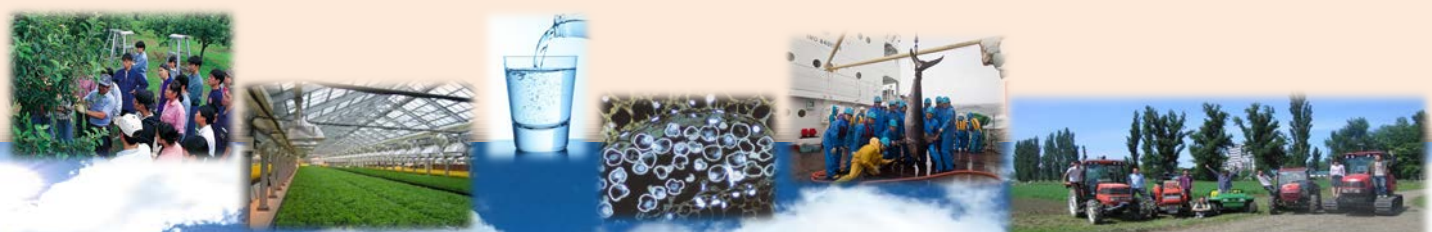

Date Friday, 5 February, '16, 13:30 to 17:00

Venue F319, Food Resources and Research Building,
Faculty of Agriculture

Admission Faculty members and student
※ Free admission, no reservation necessary, English only

Inquiry:
Global Station for Food, Land and Water Resources (GSFLWR) Phone: 011-706-3866 Mail: gsf@oia.hokudai.ac.jp