

Post-Doctoral Research Scientist at
Faculty of Environmental Earth Science, Hokkaido University

A new post-doctoral research scientist position is available at Faculty of Environmental Earth Science, Hokkaido University, Japan. This is a full-time, one-year term (each term ends on March 31) with possibility of extension until March 31, 2019 at the maximum subject to qualified achievement during each term.

Basic Job Function: The candidate is expected to conduct synthetic research on the atmospheric processes in the Tropical Tropopause Layer through observational, theoretical, and/or modeling studies.

Qualification: The candidate is required to have Ph.D in related area at least before taking the position.

Job Duty: Five days a week, Monday through Friday with leaves on national holidays. Discretionary work routine: standard working hours starting from 8:30 and finishing at 17:00, but exact working time will be determined for each worker on a case by case basis.

Salary: Annual base salary with minimum JPY 300,000 per month. The amount of allowance is determined as prescribed in the Specially Appointed Academic Staff Employment Rules of Hokkaido University. The details are found from:

<https://www.oia.hokudai.ac.jp/wp-content/uploads/2013/05/>

HU-Specially-Appointed-Academic-Staff-Employment-Rules.pdf

Documents to be submitted:

(1) Curriculum Vitae (with portrait and e-mail address). Experiences in contract with Hokkaido University in any form (Teaching Assistant, Research Assistant, part-time position etc.) should be described.

(2) List of publications (refereed journals and other publications should be discriminated).

(3) Major publications (maximum three articles) in PDF form.

(4) One-page description of past research activities.

(5) One-page description of future research plan.

(6) Name, affiliation, and e-mail address of two reference persons.

Selection procedure: After paper screening of candidates, interview through internet will be conducted.

Application and Contact:

Application documents should be received no later than August 31, 2016 by e-mail at Prof. Fumio Hasebe,
Faculty of environmental Earth Sciences, Hokkaido University
f-hasebe@ees.hokudai.ac.jp