

New COVID-19 Case Confirmed at Hokkaido University

Hokkaido University confirmed a new COVID-19 case among its staff members on Tuesday, November 3.

We tracked the patient's recent movements on campus and traced the patient's contact history through a personal interview. Those identified as close contacts are now mandated to take compulsory leave of absence to stay home and undertake physical health monitoring for 14 days from the last date of exposure.

We wish a rapid recovery for the patient while committing ourselves to safeguarding our University community from COVID-19 outbreaks.

Note: The University stresses that patient and family privacy and confidentiality must be maintained in all forms of communication by all concerned, and their human rights must be protected at all times.
