

1	Partner university name	The Royal (Dick) School of Veterinary Studies, The University of Edinburgh
2	Overview of the program	The University of Edinburgh was founded in 1582 as the sixth university in the United Kingdom and is the largest university in Scotland. This CP targets the entire field of veterinary medicine but principally wildlife and conservation medicine because of the current achievement of academic exchange program. This international collaboration program for education will be performed by faculties of veterinary medicine in both universities.
3	Master students or Ph.D. student	Doctoral course
4	Eligibility	Entry requirements for School of Veterinary Medicine, Hokkaido University are as follows: High motivation of the Program participation, high score of class evaluation and high level of English speaking and writing are required.
5	Schedule	The total recommended exchange period will be one year.
6	Acquirable degree	Inclusion in the Degree Certificate.
7	Cost	Tuition fees are not charged by the Host University to students participating in the Programme.
8	Contact	Academic Affairs Section, Office for Veterinary Medicine : kyomu@vetmed.hokudai.ac.jp (Faculty in charge: Prof. Toshio Tsubota)
9	Related information URL	